r2pTracking and SkyCom join forces to establish EcoMobility Group r2pTracking ApS ("r2pTracking") in Denmark together with SkyCom S.à r.l. ("SkyCom") in Luxembourg have today announced to join forces to establish a new pan-European company within the telematics industry named EcoMobility Group.

SkyCom is the leading telematics solution provider in Luxembourg, established in 1994 by Claude Lenert in Niederdonven as one of the first telematics companies in Europe. The company has been on the leading edge of innovation and quality-focused, sustainable, fleet management services. SkyCom has evolved over the years and is today employing more than 35 people and reaching more than 1,400 customers in Luxembourg and the greater region.

"Being the founder of SkyCom, I had to start thinking about the future for the company, our employees, our customers, and about my personal future. Together with Bernd Junk, having worked for SkyCom for more than 20 years and as CEO since 2019, and Bjarne Nielsen as a business partner from Denmark, we started to make plans for deeper collaboration. We identified Alder, a Nordic investment fund based in Stockholm, who have a strong mission and track record in developing sustainable technology companies, to finance our merger. I am excited to be a part of this continued journey as a co-owner and look forward to the future achievements of the EcoMobility Group." - says Claude Lenert, founder of SkyCom.

r2pTracking was established in 1997 and has since then grown consistently to become a leading telematics solution provider for on-the-road vehicles in Denmark. "I look forward to continuing building on the last 25 years with SkyCom as a partner under the EcoMobility Group. We see strong synergies in combining our forces and strengthening our product and services offering to our combined customer base of 8,000 customers." - says Bjarne Nielsen, CEO of r2pTracking.
